

For logging to the trader office, press the «Registration / Login» button which locates in the top right corner of www.forexcent.com .

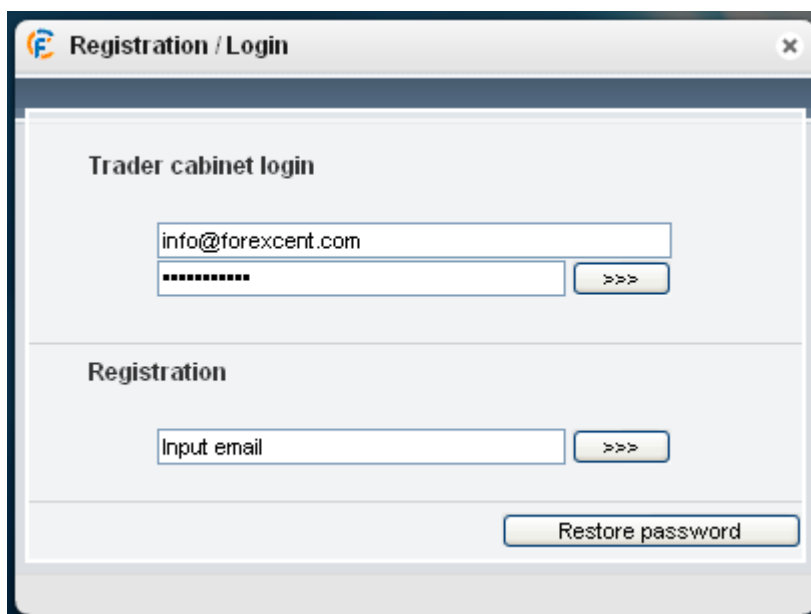

After you have pressed the «Registration / Login» button, a small window will be opened.

The given window is necessary for trader to login to the trader account.

For logging to your account enter your email and the password.

After that press the button «>>>» to the right of the password.

*If you have missed your password, try to restore it using restore password form. If failed send the message on support@forexcent.com