

Buy is operation to buy a certain amount of financial instrument. That is, buying the base currency in a particular currency pair for the quote currency. This type of financial operations is the one of the most common in all types of financial markets. Here to make a profit is necessary to buy and sell the financial instruments to get a positive result during trade operations.