

The Contract Specification is all the major trading conditions, including: the size of the spread, lot size, the minimum amount of transaction, a step change in the volume of trading, the initial margin for locked positions etc. for each trading instrument. With all necessary information regarding the contract specifications can be found on the Company's website. The specification of the contract includes all the necessary information for the trading activity in financial markets. Before deciding to trade to get acquainted with all the information relating to the present moment in order to avoid any unpleasant surprises in the future when trading any financial instrument. All conditions of the contract specifications are specially selected to ensure maximum customer comfort and benefits of trading on financial markets.