

Initial Margin is the necessary initial cash collateral for financial transactions. This margin is a guarantee for the implementation of commitments to open trade positions.