

Sell is an operation to sell a certain amount of financial instrument. That is selling the base currency in a particular currency pair for the quote currency. This type of financial operation is one of the most common in all types of financial markets in which to make a profit is necessary to buy and sell financial instruments to achieve a profit as a result of trading operations.