

Streaming Quotes. It is an automated mechanism by which the quotation for all currency pairs available to the customer directly to the trading platform without any request. Client see all the changes of quotations provided to it by the Dealer in real time. This enables the customer to make sales analysis timely over the further course of prices in the market . It is open trade deal with its forecast. Real-time pricing also available on the website and web-based platform that is available directly in the browser window. Thus, the client may use different ways of obtaining information about the current quotes. It is open on the basis of their trading positions.