Ticket is a unique number which is set for each of the pending order or open a trading position in the trading platform. This identification number is required for the correct operation of the trading terminal and associated programs. Unique number for a trading position or a pending order required to refer to them in the internal hierarchy of software that allows you to trade on Forex market to strictly differentiate all your implemented actions.