

Trading operation is the buying or selling any financial instrument, changing the trading position. Trading takes place on the basis of the Client for its implementation. Trading order is sent through a broker or trading platform via a telephone line for immediate execution. The trader can observe result of the trading in a few seconds after sending it.